The main Dauphine campus building is the work of French architect Jacques Carlu, renowned for designing Trocadero, across the the Seine from the Eiffel Tower.

Situated in central Paris (metro station: Porte Dauphine) , minutes from the Arc de Triomphe and with the Bois de Boulogne as its backyard, the Dauphine campus is home to approximately 8,500 students, 500 faculty and researchers and 400 staff members.

Dauphine is unique in the world of French universities

Dauphine is specialized in the Organization and Decision Sciences. Our mission is to educate future generations of executives, entrepreneurs, leaders and scholars to be both experts in their fields and socially responsible, cultured, open-minded members of the community.

We choose only the best candidates and they choose Dauphine.

Our faculty is internationally esteemed and award-winning.

We are respected for our academic excellence and recognized for the quality of our research in the organization and decision sciences.

Our close ties to the business world ensure that Dauphine students are prepared for their professional future and that our programs and curriculum keep pace with an ever-evolving economic landscape.

Dauphine is international and socially responsible

In 2009, Dauphine became the first French university to obtain the EQUIS accreditation from the European Foundation for Management Development, in recognition of our academic excellence and committed global perspective.

Equal opportunity and diversity are a top priority for recruiting students, faculty and staff.
